Yes, it has been some hot in Palatka this week, one day the mercury rising to 90. In the middle of each day it has gone above 85 and from that to 87 and 88. However, this is not a circumstance to what the people of New York, Pittsburgh, and other northern cities have had each day, with the mercury running to 90, and with many deaths from heat prostration. There's no place like home--if it is in Florida, especially at this time of year.

The Origin of the Negro.

John T. Bond has just issued from the press of the Palatka News a little booklet entitled "Whence Did the Negro Originate?" In this little book the author, Rev. Noah J. Tilghman, seeks to solve the mystery, as he says, "by much proof drawn from the Bible, and sustained by natural conditions." His arguments are also sustained by naturalists who have made a study of crosses among the lower animals, among whom are George Comb. Mr. Tilghman has made an ingenious and convincing argument, and his conclusions will be found sufficiently sensible to create interest among both the white and colored races.

Mr. Bond will place the book on the market immediately, and the retail price is 25 cents.

Funeral of Engineer Morton.

The remains of Robert Morton, the A. C. engineer killed at High Springs last Thursday, were met on arrival in this city last Friday by a delegation representing St. Johns Lodge, K. of P., and escorted to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. Rev. H. Dutilleul officiated at the service.

There is a lack of particulars concerning the death of Mr. Morton. Engineer Hodges, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and who accompanied the body to Palatka, states that there was a feud of some standing between Mr. Morton, who was night yard engineer at High Springs, and a man named Porter, who was night yard master. On the night of Morton's death it is alleged that Porter came to Morton's engine and began a quarrel; that Morton got down off the engine with an iron bar and in an apparently belated attitude, when Porter fired and killed him instantly.

A coroner's jury at High Springs has given a verdict which holds Porter for first degree murder, and he is in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Mr. Morton is survived by a widow and four children, whom he leaves in comfortable circumstances. Mrs. Morton is a sister of Alderman D. A. Mullis of this city.

The Mortons only moved from Palatka a few weeks ago.

There has been nothing concerning this reported murder in the daily papers.

Another Clock Guessing Contest

M. S. Brown, the clothier and men's outfitter, has inaugurated another clock guessing contest.

This contest will be an exact duplicate of the one held at this popular store during the past winter, and which attracted much attention. In fact the contest was so popular that very many have urged Mr. Brown to repeat it.

The big clock stands in the show window with its face veiled. Every purchaser of goods to a certain amount is given a ticket with the face of a clock stamped thereon, the hands of which point to a certain hour, minute and second. No two tickets are alike. The big window clock is only partially wound, and stops before the time for each weekly unveiling. When that time arrives the ticket holder whose ticket points the nearest to the time the window clock stopped, will receive a prize of 3 silver dollars.

Mr. Brown has fixed upon Tuesday evenings of each week at 7:30 for the unveiling. The first will be at 7:30 next Tuesday evening, June 28th.

These will continue for 12 weeks. On the last week there will be three prizes--one of $5, one of $3 and one of $2.

In the former contest there was a large crowd in front of the Brown store at each unveiling. The interest was great. It promises to be greater this time, as it is better understood. It is rather a reward than a contest.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of St. James' Methodist church, the following resolutions were ordered placed on the minutes of the society:

Whereas, It has been the will of Divine Providence to remove from our midst our beloved president and co-worker, Mrs. J. N. Blackwell, who, by her long and merited and won our esteem, confidence and love, whose regard for humanity, and especially the poor, made brighter the lives of many who shared her quiet, unobtrusive acts of love, the reflex influence of which enveloped her own life with a halo whose rays could not be hid under a bushel; whose life was made up largely of feelings, thoughts and acts for contributing to the happiness of all and of relieving the want and distress of the needy.

Resolved, That while we reverently bow submissively to His will who doeth all things well, yet we must express our sense of grief and of loss in this removal of our beloved friend, whose hospitable home, ever open in glad welcome to our society, was the scene of many happy meetings; that we deeply regret that her name must be erased from our active roll and placed upon the list of the departed; that we will long miss her presence and valued counsel; that we express our sympathy and share in the sorrow of the family of our esteemed friend.

Resolved further, That a page of our minutes be reserved upon which shall be spread these resolutions and that a copy of the same be sent to the bereaved family, and one be furnished the papers of the city and the Florida Christian Advocate for publication.

Taking an Auto Trip.

Last Monday three automobiles left Palatka for Daytona Beach, each containing passengers to the limit of its seating capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Cummings and Mrs. W. A. Goethe and children, of Rodman, occupied Mr. Cummings' car--a model 54 Rambler--but recently purchased of A. T. Anderson of this city, and driven by Mr. Cummings' chauffeur.

Another car was Mr. Earnest's Buick 20 containing Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Earnest, Miss Kate Lucas and Miss Walker.

The other was Mr. Hamm's Ford, containing Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hamm, Mr. Warner Hamm and his sister, Miss Priscilla.

The three cars had a most enjoyable run to Daytona Beach, where they remained until Wednesday, when Mr. Cummings and party returned to Palatka, going later to their home in Rodman.

The other cars started the same day on a pathfinding trip and were to make Deland, Orlando and various other places further south. Mr. Earnest and family will tour to another week.
